

Paint Problem Canned!

Structured Designs is committed to achieving set environmental goals each year in order to improve the impact our business has on the environment.

One of the key green issues that needs to be addressed is the problem of landfill. We know we can't solve any problems, but Structured Designs have taken the steps to recycle at least 100% of our used paint cans.

It is not just paint cans we are aiming to recycle; it will also be woodcare products, solvents and other types of can.

This is part of an ongoing plan improve our environmental policies. We are also currently working with the Carbon Neutral company to understand how much carbon we actually emit and developing an offset programme. This will be publicised in our revised Environmental Action Handbook.

If you have any questions regarding our environmental policies, please call us on 01978 758 822.
